

13. The pulses look like sharp downward triangles, and are as expected. When a radiation event occurs, it generates an electrical signal that corresponds to the energy of the radiation particle or photon.